Middle Western Province Unveils the Kappa Summer Kick Off Klassic Countdown to the Centennial Celebration

St. Louis, MO -- April 27, 2010 – The Middle Western Province announced today that tickets are now available for the Kappa Summer Kick Off Klassic at www.kappaklassic.com. The Kappa Klassic is a full week of events starting Wednesday, June 2nd and ending Saturday June 5th. Highlighting the week's events will be a Gospel Fest headlined by Marvin Sapp, the Award Winning Gospel Artist, and a Comedy Concert headlined by Nephew Tommie from the Steve Harvey Morning Show. DJ Kut from New York's Power 105 will be the Official DJ for the Kappa Summer Kick Off Klassic.

"We are extremely excited about the Klassic," said Clifford Franklin, Province Polemarch. "Many Brothers remember how much fun they had when the Kappa Karnival was in SIU Carbondale in the 70's and in St. Louis in the 80's. We want to capture that same spirit with this weekend."

The Klassic is designed to have something for everyone. Beyond the Gospel and Comedy concerts, the Klassic will host a golf tournament, picnic, a formal ball and multiple parties, beginning with the infamous "All White Party."

Tickets to the events can be purchased directly from the Middle Western Province or online at www.kappaklassic.com <http://www.kappaklassic.com>. Tickets can be bought individually for each event or as a package (All Access Passes) for events.

"We wanted to provide a way to build excitement for our upcoming Centennial Celebration, provide a vehicle for Brothers to reconnect to Kappa for reclamation and raise funds for the Middle Western Province with a series of events," explained Franklin. "This does it!"

During Spring Break a group of youth took digital cameras and video recorders and produced a collection to communicate what is important about where they live, shop and play.

It's a message for all ages.
